
The NDIS Quality and Safeguards Commission (NDIS Commission) is responsible for the regulation of NDIS providers, and the registration requirements for providers seeking to become registered NDIS providers.

There are a number of requirements providers must meet to become registered and maintain registration with the NDIS Commission.

To find out more, visit the Registered provider requirements page on the NDIS Commission website.

This page current as of 27 November 2020